CHAPTER 1 | GENERAL PROVISIONS

1.1 SCOPE AND TERMS OF THE RULES

- 1.1.1 This Rulebook applies to Issuers of Financial Instruments from the day when the Issuer requests admission to trading at the Exchange and during such time as the Financial Instruments are admitted to trading at the Exchange.
- 1.1.2 The rules regarding sanctions in Chapter 8 are also applicable for one (1) year after removal from trading in case a violation was committed during the period of application of the Rulebook set out in 1.1.1 above.
- 1.1.3 Additional local provisions are set out in the Supplements.⁵

1.2 CHANGES TO THE RULES

- 1.2.1 The Exchange can make changes to the Rulebook. Such changes shall apply to the Issuer and its Financial Instruments at the earliest 30 days after the Exchange has informed the Issuer and published the information via the Exchange's website.
- 1.2.2 The Exchange may under specific circumstances decide that minor or technical changes to the Rulebook shall apply earlier than 30 days after publication as the situation demands.
- 1.2.3 Changes to the Supplements are only subject to consultation and approval (if applicable) in the country of the relevant Exchange.

1.3 WAIVERS

- 1.3.1 The Exchange may approve, based on a written application by the Issuer, an individual waiver from the Admission Requirements in the Rulebook, if the Exchange is, prior to granting the exemption, satisfied that:
 - (a) the objectives behind the relevant rule or any statutory requirements are not compromised; or
 - (b) objectives behind the relevant rule can be achieved by other means.
- 1.3.2 The Exchange may under exceptional circumstances approve, based on a written application by the Issuer, an individual waiver from sections 4.2-4.6 presented in the Rulebook, if the Exchange is, prior to granting the exemption, satisfied that

⁵ Issuers of Cooperative Instruments on Nasdaq First North Growth Market Finland: see also Supplement C – Finland, Additional Rules for Nasdaq First North Growth Market Finland – Cooperatives -segment

- (a) the objectives behind the relevant rule or any statutory requirements are not compromised; or
- (b) the objectives behind the relevant rule can be achieved by other means.

- 1.3.3 The Issuer shall disclose any waivers granted in accordance with 1.3.2. Additionally, the Issuer shall make the details of any waivers granted easily available at all times on its website.

Since investors expect that Issuers will follow all disclosure requirements contained in this Rulebook, it is important that they are made aware of any granted waiver from the disclosure requirements. CHAPTER 2 | ADMISSION TO AND VOLUNTARY REMOVAL OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS FROM TRADING

2.1 GENERAL

- 2.1.1 Financial Instruments may be admitted to trading on Nasdaq First North Growth Market where the Exchange finds that the Issuer and the Financial Instruments meet Nasdaq First North Growth Market's Admission Requirements.
- 2.1.2 The Exchange may impose on the Issuer any special eligibility requirement that it deems appropriate in order to protect investors and the reputation of the Exchange.
- 2.1.3 Irrespective of whether the Issuer satisfies all the Admission Requirements, the Exchange shall be entitled to reject the application if it concludes that approval of the applicant might damage public confidence in the Exchange, Nasdaq First North Growth Market or the securities market.

In exceptional cases, an Issuer applying for admission to trading may be deemed unsuitable for admission, despite the fact that the Issuer fulfils all of the Admission Requirements. This may be the case where, for example, it is believed that the trading of the Issuer's Shares might damage confidence in the securities market in general or in the Exchange in particular. If an already admitted Issuer, despite fulfilling all ongoing Admission Requirements, is considered to damage confidence in the securities market in general, or in the Exchange in particular, because of its operations or organization, the Exchange may consider giving the Issuer's Shares observation status or consider removal from trading.

In order to maintain and preserve the public's confidence in the market, it is imperative that persons discharging managerial responsibilities in the Issuer, including members of the Board of Directors, do not have a history that may jeopardize the reputation of the Issuer and confidence in the securities market. It is also important that the history of such persons be sufficiently disclosed by the Issuer prior to the admission. If a person discharging managerial responsibilities in the Issuer has a criminal history or has been involved in bankruptcies in the past, such circumstances may disqualify the Issuer from being admitted, unless such a person is relieved from its position in the Issuer.

An Issuer's financing may lead to a conclusion that the Issuer is not suitable for admission to trading in a case where, for example, the company's financial stability is threatened. This could be the case, for example, if a company restructuring or a similar process has taken place or is likely to take place.

2.2 THE ADMISSION PROCESS FOR SHARES

- 2.2.1 The Exchange will meet with the Issuer and its Certified Adviser to discuss the request to initiate an admission process, the Issuer's suitability and the time plan for the review. The admission process and all information provided by the Issuer to the Exchange will be treated confidentially.
- 2.2.2 The Certified Adviser shall have assessed the Issuer's suitability and compliance with all Admission Requirements before initiating the admission process.
- 2.2.3 The Exchange's review of the Issuer will take no less than 20 business days.

If the documents sent to the Exchange are not complete or are otherwise insufficient, the Issuer will be requested to submit further documentation, respond to specific questions, or make necessary changes to the documents. The review process in such situations will often exceed the normal timeline for the review of the Issuer.

- 2.2.4 An application for admission to trading shall be submitted to the Exchange. The Certified Adviser shall, on behalf of the Issuer, submit the application via the Nasdaq Listing Center, or as designated by the Exchange, in accordance with the instructions provided in the Nasdaq Listing Center as applicable from time to time.⁸

- 2.2.5 A decision to admit the Issuer's Shares to trading is taken by the Exchange.

2.2.6 Admission of additional Financial Instruments of the same class

- (a) Where the Issuer issues new Financial Instruments of the same class as Financial Instruments already admitted to trading, the Issuer shall apply to the Exchange for admission to trading of the aforementioned Financial Instruments as soon as possible.

The Exchange may, upon written application by the Issuer, and subject to the Issuer fulfilling the Admission Requirements set out in 2.3.1 (b)-(e), decide to admit to trading the additional Financial Instruments.

- (b) Additional local provisions in relation to admission of additional Financial Instruments of the same class are set out in the Supplements.⁹

⁸ For Nasdaq First North Growth Market Sweden, see Supplement B – Sweden.

⁹ For Nasdaq First North Growth Market Finland, see Supplement C – Finland

2.3 ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS FOR SHARES

2.3.1 General

- (a) The Admission Requirements apply at the time when the Shares are admitted to trading and on an ongoing basis after admission has been granted, unless otherwise stated. Notwithstanding this, provision 2.3.4 (Admission Document) only apply at the time of admission to trading.
- (b) The Shares shall be issued in accordance with the legislation applicable to the Issuer in the jurisdiction of incorporation or establishment.
- (c) The Shares shall be freely negotiable.

Free negotiability of the Shares is a general prerequisite for public trading and admission to trading. If the Issuer's articles of association include limitations on the transferability of the Shares, such limitations will typically be considered to restrict free negotiability within the meaning of this rule. Other arrangements with a similar effect may lead to the same conclusion.

- (d) The application for admission to trading shall cover all issued Shares of the same class.
- (e) The Shares shall be registered electronically and be capable of being cleared and settled.

2.3.2 Sanctions screening

- (a) The Issuer shall pass a sanctions screening check to the satisfaction of the Exchange.
- (b) The Exchange may at any time while an Issuer's Shares are admitted to trading require the Issuer to pass an additional sanctions screening check to the satisfaction of the Exchange.

The Exchange is committed to complying with the applicable sanctions, laws and regulations in the jurisdictions in which Nasdaq operates. This entails screening Issuers, applicants and other relevant parties globally against the sanctions lists issued by the European Union, the United Nations and the United States of America's Department of Treasury - Office of Foreign Assets Control as well as screening locally against other sanctions lists that apply to Nasdaq's operation in a particular jurisdiction.

Financial sanctions are restrictions put in place by governments, international organizations and supranational bodies that limit the provision of certain financial services or restrict access to financial markets, funds and economic resources in order to achieve a specific foreign policy or national security objective.

Nasdaq will not enter into any business relationship that would be prohibited under financial or other applicable sanctions.

2.3.3 Certified Adviser¹⁰

- (a) The Issuer shall engage a Certified Adviser prior to its request for admission assessment as well as continuously during the time of admission.
- (b) If the Exchange terminates the agreement with the Issuer's Certified Adviser pursuant to Section 7.1.1, the Issuer shall be obliged to enter into an agreement with a new Certified Adviser within three (3) months from the date on which the termination became effective.

2.3.4 Admission document

- (a) The Issuer must prepare a company description, as specified in item 3.2, or submit a valid prospectus in accordance with the Prospectus Regulation or other applicable national legislation prior to the admission to trading.
- (b) The prospectus, or supplements to the prospectus as applicable, may not be dated more than three (3) months prior to the date of the Exchange's approval of admission to trading. The first page of the prospectus shall contain the disclaimer text concerning Nasdaq First North Growth Market set out in Appendix D.

2.3.5 Liquidity of the Shares

- (a) Liquidity shall exist in order to facilitate a reliable price formation process. A sufficient number of Shares shall be distributed to the public. In addition, the Issuer shall have a sufficient number of shareholders.
- (b) The requirement set out in 2.3.5 (a) shall be deemed to be met where:
 - i. 10% of the Issuer's Shares within the same class are in Public Hands; and
 - ii. the Issuer's Shares are held by at least 300 Qualified Shareholders. If, however, the number of Qualified Shareholders is less than 300, but more than 100, the Exchange may consider this requirement satisfied if the Issuer retains the services of a Liquidity Provider.¹¹
- (c) Once the Shares are admitted to trading, the Exchange will continuously assess whether sufficient Liquidity exists.
 - i. In the event the Issuer's Shares have a quoted spread exceeding a threshold set out in the Nasdaq INET Market Model, and the Issuer has not engaged a Liquidity Provider to remedy the situation, the instrument will be moved to the Auction Trading market segment.¹²

¹⁰ For Nasdaq First North Growth Market Iceland, see Supplement A – Iceland

¹¹ For Nasdaq First North Growth Market Iceland, see Supplement A – Iceland, For Nasdaq First North Growth Market Finland, see Supplement C – Finland

¹² Section 2.3.5.c.i. regarding the Auction Trading market segment does not apply to Nasdaq First North Growth Market Denmark.

The Exchange may create specific market segments in the markets it operates and allocate Issuers to those distinct market segments based on certain pre-defined criteria. Additional information on the specific market segments and the criteria for being allocated to those market segments are set out in the relevant Market Models.

In the event the conditions regarding Liquidity deviate from the Admission Requirements while the Shares are admitted to trading, the Issuer will be encouraged to remedy the situation, for example it may be suggested that the Issuer commission the services of a Liquidity Provider.

- (d) Additional local provisions in relation to sufficient demand and supply are set out in the Supplements.¹³

2.3.6 Working capital

At the time of admission to trading the Issuer shall be able to demonstrate sufficient working capital for its planned business for at least twelve (12) months from first day of trading.

In this context, “sufficient working capital” means that the Issuer shall demonstrate that it is able to access cash and other available liquid resources in order to meet its liabilities as they fall due. The working capital requirement can be fulfilled through capital raised in connection with the listing.

2.3.7 Business operations

The Issuer shall be able to demonstrate ongoing business operations.

It is not sufficient that the Issuer has a business idea and financial resources to commence the operations. The business operations may be at an early stage and do not need to be profitable or generate revenue. At the time of admission to trading, the business of the Issuer must have been conducted for at least twelve (12) months.

2.3.8 The Issuer’s organization¹⁴

- (a) An overall assessment of the appropriateness of the Senior Management and the Board of Directors must be made in each individual case, considering for example the size of the Issuer and the business operations.
- (b) Members of the Board and the Senior Management shall have sufficient knowledge about the Issuer and its business, and have appropriate understanding of the way the Issuer has structured its internal reporting lines, the Senior Management pertaining to financial reporting, its investor relation Senior Management and its procedures for disclosing information to the market.

¹³ For Nasdaq First North Growth Market Iceland, see Supplement A – Iceland, For Nasdaq First North Growth Market Finland, see Supplement C – Finland

The Exchange will consider the members of the Board and the Senior Management as having sufficient knowledge and appropriate understanding in accordance with the above if the majority: (i) have been active in their respective current positions in the Issuer for a period of at least three (3) months; and (ii) have participated in the production of at least one annual or other financial report issued by the Issuer, prior to the admission to trading.

- (c) Prior to admission to trading, members of the Board of Directors and persons in the Senior Management of the Issuer shall participate in a seminar provided by the Exchange concerning the obligations of an Issuer.
- (d) The Issuer shall have a CEO. The CEO shall be sufficiently engaged in running and leading/managing the Issuer.

The CEO's role in the Issuer is of crucial importance. It is therefore essential that the CEO be sufficiently engaged in the running of the Issuer. Where the CEO is employed by the Issuer, or within the Issuer's corporate group, sufficient engagement can be presumed. If the CEO is not employed, then the Issuer must demonstrate to the Exchange that the CEO's engagement is nonetheless assured through contractual terms.

- (e) It is not permitted for the Issuer's entire Senior Management team to serve on the Board of Directors.
- (f) It is not permitted for both the CEO and the CFO to serve on the Issuer's Board of Directors.
- (g) Not more than half of the number of Board members may serve in the Issuer's Senior Management.
- (h) At least one of the Issuer's Board members must be independent of the Issuer, its Senior Management, and the Issuer's major shareholders.

Independence shall be defined in the same way as in the corporate governance code in the jurisdiction where the Issuer's Financial Instruments are admitted to trading, or, if the Issuer applies an equivalent corporate governance code in the country of its incorporation, that code.

2.3.9 Capacity for providing information to the market

- (a) The Issuer shall possess the organization and staff to manage its disclosure obligations, including financial reporting, in order to comply with the requirements as set forth in Chapter 4.

The Issuer shall have an organization that ensures timely disclosure of information to the market. The organization and the routines shall be in place prior to admission to trading of the Issuer's Financial Instruments.

The Issuer's organization should also have a financial reporting system that ensures that the Senior Management and the Board of Directors receive the necessary information for decision-making. It may be acceptable that retained external personnel handle the financial function, provided that there is a long-term contractual relationship and reasonable continuity of personnel, as well as sufficient internal knowledge within the Issuer regarding the applicable accounting rules.

- (b) The Issuer shall have prepared at least one financial report in accordance with applicable legislation, although this information need not have been disseminated to the market.
- (c) The Issuer shall have incorporated an information policy, designated to fit the circumstances pertaining to the specific Issuer, to support compliance with its obligation to provide the market with timely, reliable, accurate and up-to-date information.

The information policy is a document that helps the Issuer to continuously provide high-quality internal and external information.

The policy should include, among other things, clear instructions on how to handle the Issuer's disclosure obligations according to the Rulebook, legislation and other regulation. Particular focus shall be put on the handling of inside information and how to act in case of a potential leakage of inside information, in crisis or other extraordinary situations. Preferably the policy should include examples of situations when disclosure to the market is, or could be, required. The policy should also cover situations in which the Issuer has an obligation to contact the Exchange's surveillance function.

The information policy normally deals with a number of areas, such as who is to act as the Issuer's spokesperson, which type of information is to be made public or disclosed, how and when publication or disclosure shall take place and the handling of information in crises.

The policy should clearly point out specific persons or functions, involved in the disclosure process and responsibilities. It should also include an order of spokespersons for the Company.

- (d) The Issuer shall ensure that there is at least one person available at all times who can communicate externally on behalf of the Issuer.

In order to ensure that there is a person available at all times who can communicate externally on behalf of the Issuer, it is recommended that the Issuer appoint at least two people within the Issuer's operational organization to this role. Consultants may function as a support in the distribution of information, especially with respect to the drafting of disclosures. However, basing material parts of the information expertise on consultants or hired external personnel is not acceptable.

- (e) Additional local provisions in relation to capacity for providing information to the market are set out in the Supplements.¹⁵

2.4 SUBSCRIPTION AND OPTION RIGHTS

- 2.4.1 An Issuer whose Shares are admitted to trading on Nasdaq First North Growth Market may also apply for trading in subscription and option rights¹⁶ related to the Shares and which are issued by the Issuer.
- 2.4.2 Subscription and option rights shall fulfil the same requirements as Shares set out in 2.3.1 (b)-(e).
- 2.4.3 An Issuer that applies to have its subscription and option rights admitted to trading shall disclose information regarding the number and class of the subscription and option rights as well as the terms and conditions.

2.5 SUBSTANTIAL CHANGES TO THE ISSUER

- 2.5.1 If the Issuer undergoes substantial changes and, following those changes, is considered to be an entirely new entity, “change of identity”, the Exchange will require the Issuer to submit a new application and a Company Description for admission to trading and initiate a renewed review process of the Issuer’s fulfilment with the Admission Requirements in accordance with the process described in items 2.2 and 2.3.

The Exchange will, based on an overall assessment, decide whether it is a matter of a change of identity. Factors taken into consideration are typically the following:

- Changes in ownership structure, Senior Management or assets.
- The existing business is sold and, a new business is acquired.
- Acquired turnover or assets significantly exceed the turnover or assets of the Issuer.
- The market value of the acquired assets significantly exceeds the market value of the Issuer.
- The control of the Issuer is transferred from the previous Senior Management and the majority of the Board of Directors changes as a result of a transaction.

Upon an overall evaluation, the occurrence of most or all of the abovementioned factors means that a change of identity is deemed to have taken place. On the other hand, the occurrence of only one or two of these factors might not be sufficient to treat the Issuer as a completely new company.

¹⁵ For Nasdaq First North Growth Market Finland, see Supplement C - Finland

2.6 VOLUNTARY REMOVAL OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS FROM TRADING

- 2.6.1 The Issuer may request that its Financial Instruments are removed from trading.
- 2.6.2 The Exchange will decide upon the request and the time for the removal.
- 2.6.3 Additional local provisions in relation to voluntary removal of Financial Instruments from trading are set out in the Supplements.¹⁷

CHAPTER 6 | SURVEILLANCE ACTIONS AND ISSUER'S OBLIGATION TO PROVIDE INFORMATION TO THE EXCHANGE AND THE CERTIFIED ADVISER

6.1 GENERAL

- 6.1.1 The Issuer shall upon request by the Exchange supply the Exchange with any information it requires for the assessment or surveillance of the Issuer.

Upon the Exchange's request, the Issuer is required to provide the Exchange with all information necessary to assess the Issuer's compliance with the Rulebook and to be able to decide on appropriate surveillance actions. The requirement is also relevant for the Issuer's obligations in relation to law, other regulations and good practice in securities markets (where applicable). If the information requested is confidential or constitutes inside information, the company shall still supply the Exchange with that information. Confidentiality rules in applicable local legislation prohibit disclosure or dissemination of confidential information or inside information by the Exchange and its employees. However, the Exchange in its capacity as a supervised entity is under an obligation to submit information, even if it is confidential, to the respective Financial Supervisory Authorities or any other authority if required by law.

- 6.1.2 The Issuer shall inform the Certified Adviser about the Issuer and its business and also provide all information to enable the Certified Adviser to fulfil its responsibilities as set forth in the rules in this Rulebook.
- 6.1.3 Information disclosed according to the rules in this Rulebook shall simultaneously with the disclosure be provided to the Certified Adviser and the Exchange for surveillance purposes in a manner prescribed by the Exchange.

6.2 SPECIFIC OBLIGATIONS FOR THE ISSUER

6.2.1 Suspension of trading

The Issuer shall notify the Exchange and the Certified Adviser immediately of circumstances that might necessitate a suspension of trading, such as a suspected or concluded leakage of inside information.

6.2.2 Change of identity

The Issuer shall inform the Exchange of any substantial changes that might lead to a change of identity in accordance with Section 2.5.1 as soon as the Issuer becomes aware of it.

6.2.3 Disclosure of extraordinary information

If an Issuer intends to disclose information that is assumed to be of extraordinary importance for the Issuer, the Issuer shall notify the Exchange and the Certified Adviser as soon as practically possible before the information is disclosed.

If the Issuer intends to disclose information that is assumed to be of extraordinary importance for the Issuer and its Shares, it is important that Exchange's surveillance function receives the information in advance in order to consider if any measures need be taken by the Exchange. The Exchange uses the information for the surveillance of trading in the relevant Shares in order to detect unusual changes in the price of instruments and prevent insider trading. One result might be that the Exchange briefly suspends trading and cancels pending orders in order to provide the market with the possibility to evaluate the new information. The information is also used to monitor for potential leakages.

Information concerning a public takeover bid is considered to be of extraordinary importance. When discussions have proceeded to an advanced stage in respect of the acquisition of another listed company, the Exchange should be informed in advance in order to be able to monitor trading. However, there must be reasonable grounds to assume that the measure will lead to an offer. The Exchange should also be notified when the Issuer has been contacted by a third party which intends to make a public takeover bid to the shareholders of the Issuer, where there are reasonable grounds to assume that the contact will lead to a formal public takeover bid.

There is no formal requirement regarding how to notify the Exchange's surveillance function.

6.2.4 Corporate actions

The Issuer shall notify the Certified Adviser as soon as possible in respect of new issues, name changes, splits and other similar corporate actions.³⁷ The Certified Adviser is responsible for notifying the Exchange, which undertakes to disseminate the information to the market.

- other relevant circumstances relating to the Issuer.

2.3.9 Capacity for providing information to the market

- (a) The Issuer shall have in place adequate procedures, controls and systems, including systems and procedures for financial reporting, and personnel to enable compliance with its obligation to provide the market with timely, reliable, accurate and up-to-date information.

In practice this means that the financial reporting system shall be structured in such a manner that the management and Board of Directors receive the necessary information for decision-making. This should facilitate speedy and frequent reporting to the management and Board of Directors, commonly in the form of monthly reports. The financial reporting system must allow for the speedy production of reliable financial reports. The Issuer shall also have the resources required to analyze the material so that, for example, profit trends in the external reporting can be commented upon in a manner relevant to the market. It may be acceptable that retained external personnel handle parts of the financial function, provided that there is a long-term contractual relationship and reasonable continuity of personnel. However, the responsibility for the fulfilment of the financial functions always rests with the Issuer and having essential aspects of financial expertise provided by external personnel is not acceptable.

2.6 Voluntary removal of Financial Instruments from trading

Where the Issuer has applied for its Financial Instruments to be removed from trading, such an application may be approved by the Exchange unless the Exchange finds that removal would be detrimental to the interest of the investors or the securities market.⁴⁷

Auditor

The Issuer shall have at least one Authorized Public Auditor (KHT) or Authorized Public Audit firm (KHT audit firm) appointed as auditor by the shareholders' meeting.

3. Company Description

3.4 Publication of the Company Description or prospectus

In addition to Section 3.4, the Issuer is obliged to the following:

The Issuer is required to amend the Company Description if there have been material changes or if material new information occurs. The Issuer shall amend the Company Description as a supplement and submit it to the Exchange and disclose according to 3.4.1. No changes to the original Company Description are allowed. Similar requirements apply to the prospectus.

If the Company Description includes an offer of Shares the process must follow the general rules and principles of prospectus in terms of disclosure/availability of Company Description and possibility for investors to withdraw orders if significant material information is disclosed during the offer period.

The Company Description shall contain all the details on the offering similar to what is required in a prospectus such as the price range, the minimum and maximum number of Shares in the offer and the dates for the offering period.

4. Disclosure and information requirements

4.1 Disclosure of inside information

The obligation of an Issuer to publicly disclose inside information is regulated by the Market Abuse Regulation, including its implementing measures and relevant guidelines of European Securities and Markets Authority. Inside information is defined in Article 7 in Market Abuse Regulation.

An Issuer may, on its own responsibility, delay disclosure to the public of inside information provided that all of the conditions set out in Market Abuse Regulation are met. The decision on the delay shall be notified to Financial Supervision Authority when the inside information is disclosed.

These rules above apply to an issuer defined in Market Abuse Regulation and whose shares (or other financial instruments) has been admitted to trading or has submitted its application for admission to trading on the Nasdaq First North Growth Market Finland. This rule and its explanations set out below are guidance on certain circumstances and events that in the Exchange's view may involve inside information. The intention of the guidance is to help the Issuer to be in compliance with Market Abuse Regulation and to provide guidance on the Exchange's view on the Issuer's disclosure requirements under Market Abuse Regulation. It is not the intention that the general provision or guidance provided in this section should impose such obligations on the Issuer which are in contradiction with Market Abuse Regulation or impose additional obligations than those required by Market Abuse Regulation.

Confidential handling of inside information

Unlawful disclosure of inside information is forbidden. According to Market Abuse Regulation an unlawful disclosure arises where a person possesses inside information and discloses that information to any other person, except where the disclosure is made in the normal exercise of an employment, a profession or duties. Market Abuse Regulation regulates in more detail legitimate behavior relating to inside information and unlawful disclosure of inside information.

An Issuer shall ensure that the inside information is treated confidentially and that no unauthorized party is given such information prior to disclosure. Hence, inside information may not be disclosed to analysts, journalists, or any other parties, either individually or in groups, unless such information is simultaneously made public to the market. It is not possible to provide inside information e.g. at general meetings or analyst presentations without disclosure of the information. If the Issuer intends to provide such information during such a meeting or presentation, the Issuer must simultaneously – at the latest - disclose the information.

Market Abuse Regulation regulates also so-called market sounding. According to article 11 of Market Abuse Regulation a market sounding comprises the communication of information, prior to announcement of a transaction, in order to gauge the interest of potential investor in a possible transaction and the conditions relating to it such as potential size or pricing, to one or more potential investor.

The Issuer cannot evade its disclosure obligation by entering into an agreement with another party stating that specific information, or details in such information, should not be disclosed by the Issuer.

Assessment of inside information

The determination of what constitutes inside information must be based on the facts and circumstances in each case.

In evaluating what may constitute inside information, the factors to be considered may among other things include:

- the expected extent or importance of the decision, fact or circumstance compared with the Issuer's activities as whole;
- the relevance of the information as regards the main determinants of the price of the Issuer's financial instruments; and

- all other market variables that may affect the price of the financial instruments.

When the Issuer has received the information from an external party, also the reliability of the source can be taken into consideration.

An additional basis for evaluation is whether similar information in the past had a substantial effect or if the Issuer itself has previously treated similar information as inside information. Of course, this does not prevent Issuers from making changes to their disclosure policies, but inconsistent treatment of similar information should be avoided.

The Issuer may contact the Exchange for advice. The Exchange's employees are subject to a duty of confidentiality. However, the Issuer is always ultimately responsible for fulfilling its duty of disclosure under Market Abuse Regulation and these rules.

Examples of situations possibly including inside information

Set out below is a more detailed description of some of the examples and guidance on which type of information the Exchange would, based on the general provision, normally expect the disclosure to include. There is also guidance on the timing and methodology of disclosures which the Exchange would normally expect the issuer to follow.

The Issuer should disclose inside information which, if it were made public, would be likely to have a significant effect on the prices of the financial instruments issued by the Issuer. It is not required that actual changes in the price of the financial instruments occur. The effect on the price of the financial instruments may vary and should be determined on a company by company basis, taking into account, among other things, the prior trend of share price of the financial instruments, the relevant industry in question, and the actual market circumstances. Accordingly, an obligation to provide information pursuant to this provision may, for example, exist in the following situations:

- orders or investment decisions;
- co-operation agreements or other agreements of major importance;
- business acquisitions and divestitures;
- price or exchange rate changes;
- credit or customer losses;
- new joint ventures;
- research results, development of a new product or important invention;
- commencement or settlement of, or decisions rendered in, legal disputes;
- financial difficulties;
- decisions taken by authorities;
- shareholder agreements known to the company which may affect to the use of voting rights or negotiability of the shares or financial instruments;
- auditor's report;
- market rumors and information leaks;
- liquidity provision agreements;
- information regarding subsidiaries and affiliated companies;
- change in the financial result or financial position; and
- substantial changes to the operations of the issuer.

Orders or investment decisions; co-operation agreements

If an Issuer discloses a major order, it could be essential to provide information about the value of the order, including the product or other content of the order and time period to which the order relates. Orders relating to new products, new areas of use, new customers or customer types, and new markets may be considered as inside information under certain circumstances. In the context of co-operation agreements, it may be difficult to determine the financial effects and, therefore, it is very important to provide the securities markets with a clear description of the reasons, purpose, and plans.

Business acquisitions and divestitures

If an Issuer discloses inside information about the acquisition or a sale of a company or business the disclosure should normally include:

- purchase price, unless special circumstances exist;
- method of payment;
- relevant information about the acquired or sold entity;
- the reasons for the transaction;
- estimated effects on the operation of the Issuer;
- the time schedule for the transaction; and
- any key terms or conditions that apply to the transaction.

The company or business acquired shall be described in a manner that addresses its key line(s) of business, historical financial performance and financial position.

In conjunction with corporate transactions considered inside information special attention should be given to the completeness of information. Based on the information disclosed about a transaction, the market participants should be able to assess the financial effects of the acquisition or sale as well as the effects on the operation of the company and the effect on the price or value of the company's financial instruments. Typically, such assessment requires knowledge of the financial effects of the acquisition or sale as well as the effects on the operation of the company.

The Issuer should disclose the sale or purchase price of a company since it normally is a key element in assessing the effects of the transaction. In rare cases there may, however, be a possibility to withhold information regarding the price for an acquired or sold entity. This might be the case where the purchase price is not of importance for the valuation of the Issuer admitted to trading. Another example could be when a disclosure is made before the price negotiations have been finalized. It is then impossible to inform about the price, but once the price has been agreed upon, relevant information thereon should be disclosed. It is not unusual that the purchase price is related to the future outcome of the acquired business. In such a case the company should disclose the maximum purchase price (including the maximum additional purchase price) at once, together with the parameters which may affect the amount of the additional purchase price, and disclose the final purchase price in future reporting. An Issuer cannot evade the disclosure obligation by making an agreement with the opposite party stating that the purchase price or other required information will not be disclosed.

Different kinds of transactions can be considered price sensitive and there can be different ways to evaluate the transactions. Relevant information for the assessment could include the effects on the income statement or balance sheet resulting from the integration of operations or, alternatively, the effects of the sale. Under normal circumstances, the Exchange considers a transaction to be price sensitive where any of the following pertain:

- the target entity represents more than ten per cent of the Issuer's consolidated revenue or assets;*
- the target entity represents more than ten per cent of the Issuer's consolidated equity capital according to the balance sheet; or*
- the consideration paid for the target entity represents more than ten per cent of the Issuer's consolidated equity according to the balance sheet or more than ten per cent of the total market value of the Issuer's shares if its total equity capital is lower than the market value of its securities.*

Transactions which do not fulfil the abovementioned limits can also be considered price sensitive, e.g. due to their strategic importance.

In conjunction with the acquisition of business activities, where the acquired business unit is not an independent business unit, it may be particularly important to report information regarding the purchase price, the type of business that has been acquired, the assets and liabilities included in the acquisition, the number of employees transferred, etc.

Financial difficulties

In situations where the Issuer encounters financial difficulties, such as a liquidity crisis or suspension of payments, there may be difficult questions regarding the obligation to disclose inside information. For example the company may find itself in a situation where significant decisions are taken by other parties, e.g. lenders or major shareholders.

It is, however, still the Issuer that is responsible for disclosing inside information. This is achieved by the Issuer staying continuously informed of developments through contacts with representatives from lenders, major shareholders, etc. On the basis of information then received, appropriate disclosure measures may be taken.

Not infrequently, loan agreements contain different types of limits in relation to equity ratio, turnover, credit ratings or suchlike (so called "covenants") and if these limits are exceeded, the lender may demand re-payment or renegotiation of the loan. Exceeding such limits may constitute inside information.

Decisions taken by authorities

Even though it may be difficult for the Issuer to control processes where decisions concerning the company are made by authorities or courts of law, it is still the company's responsibility to provide information, having a significant effect on the price of financial instrument, regarding such decision(s) to the securities markets as soon as possible. The information must be sufficiently comprehensive and relevant from the market's viewpoint to enable an assessment of the effect on the Issuer and its operations, result or financial position and thus the extent of the information needed may vary.

If it is impossible for the Issuer to provide an opinion on the consequences of the decisions made by authorities or courts of law, the Issuer may initially make a disclosure regarding the decision. As soon as the Issuer has made an assessment of the consequence of the decision, if any, the Issuer should make a new disclosure regarding these consequences as soon as possible.

Information regarding subsidiaries and affiliated companies

Decisions, facts and circumstances pertaining to the group or to individual subsidiaries, and in some cases affiliated companies as well, may be inside information. Evaluation is naturally affected by the legal and operational structure of the group and by other circumstances.

A situation may occur in which an affiliated company discloses information independently with regard to its own operations regardless of whether the affiliated company itself has a similar duty of disclosure. In such cases the Issuer (parent) company is required to evaluate whether that information constitutes inside information.

When the subsidiary is an Issuer, circumstances in the subsidiary may be inside information for the parent company's financial instruments and must be disclosed by the parent company.

Deviation in financial result or financial position

In the event that the financial result or position of the Issuer deviates in an unexpected and significant way from what could reasonably be expected based on financial information previously disclosed by the company, information on such deviation may constitute inside information.

When deciding whether a change in financial results or the financial position of the company is significant enough to constitute inside information, the company should evaluate the deviation based on the last known actual financial performance, forecasts or forward-looking statements. In deciding whether to make a disclosure, the company should consider performance prospects and publicly known changes in financial conditions during the remainder of the review period. Matters affecting such prospects may include changes in the company's operating environment and seasonal patterns in the company's line(s) of business. Attention may also be given to any information the company has disclosed about the effect of external factors on the company, e.g. sensitivity analysis regarding commodity prices or in relation to specific market developments. Market expectations, such as analyst estimates, are not decisive for such evaluation; instead, the information disclosed by the company itself and what can justifiably be concluded from such information is decisive.

Disclosure procedures

Inside information under Market Abuse Regulation shall be disclosed by the Issuer as soon as possible in such a manner that information is available in a non-discriminatory way enabling fast access and complete, correct and timely assessment of the information by the public. The Issuer shall provide the inside information to major media and the Exchange.

Disclosures shall contain information stating that the information is inside information as well as information on the time and date of disclosure, the company's name and the name and title of person who has given the disclosure.

Significant changes to previously disclosed information shall be disclosed as soon as possible. Corrections to errors in information disclosed by the Issuer itself need to be disclosed as soon as possible after the error has been noticed, unless the error is insignificant.

If an issuer learns that inside information of which disclosure has been delayed under Market Abuse Regulation has leaked prior to a disclosure or if the confidentiality of the inside information can no longer be ensured, the Issuer shall as soon as possible make a disclosure. If inside information is given to a third party, who does not owe a duty of confidentiality, the disclosure shall be made simultaneously.

In situations where a rumour explicitly relates to inside information the disclosure of which has been delayed, the inside information shall be disclosed as soon as possible when the rumour is sufficiently accurate to indicate that the confidentiality of that information is no longer ensured.

Inside information must be disclosed in an effective manner so that all market participants shall have access to the same information at the same time.

The information the Issuer discloses must reflect the company's actual situation and may not be misleading or inaccurate in any manner. Disclosed information shall be correct, relevant and clear.

Information must be sufficiently comprehensive to enable assessment of the effect of the information disclosed on the Issuer, its financial result and financial position, or the price of its listed financial instruments. Further, also information omitted from a disclosure may cause the disclosure to be inaccurate or misleading.

The requirement to inform the market as soon as possible means that very little time may elapse between the time when a decision is taken or an event occurs, and the disclosure thereof.

Normally, the disclosure should not take more time than necessary to compile and disseminate the information, but at the same time it is necessary that the information must be ready to be disclosed, to allow a sufficiently comprehensive disclosure. Even if draft disclosures normally are prepared prior to planned decision making, the rule does not require an announcement e.g. during an ongoing meeting of the board of directors or other decision making.

The most important information in a disclosure shall be clearly presented at the beginning of the disclosure. Each disclosure by the company shall have a heading indicating the sub-stance of the disclosure as well as contact information and internet address. Information shall be available without charge and be easily and chronologically found on the webpage of the Issuer.

Whenever the Issuer discloses significant changes to previously disclosed information, the changes should also be disclosed using the same distribution channels as previously.

In case an Issuer delays the disclosure of the inside information, the company shall record the decision and how the delay requirements have been met and monitoring of those during the delay. The Issuer shall notify the Financial Supervisory Authority about the delayed disclosure when disclosing the inside information. Explanations for delay shall be notified if requested by the FIN-FSA.

Any information disclosed by the Issuer according to Market Abuse Regulation and the Rulebook shall be disclosed as soon as possible in such a manner that information is available in a non-discriminatory way enabling fast access and complete, correct and timely assessment of the information by the public. The Issuer shall provide any information to major media as well as to the Exchange.

Any information disclosed by the Issuer shall be made available on the Issuer's website and the Exchange at the same time.

4.2 Other disclosure requirements

Transactions between an Issuer and closely-related parties

In order to ensure equal treatment of shareholders, transactions between an Issuer and closely-related parties which are not entered into in the normal course of business shall (unless obviously insignificant) be published as soon as possible after the decision is taken regarding such a transaction. An example of a matter to be published is when the management of a subsidiary buys out the subsidiary from the Issuer. Even if the subsidiary is small compared to the Issuer, and the Share price may be unaffected, publication must be made according to this rule.

4.3 Annual financial report and accounting principles

- 4.3.1 The annual financial report must be disclosed without undue delay, but no later than three weeks before the annual general meeting in which the financial statements are presented for adoption, however no later than four months after the end of the financial period.

4.4 Annual financial statement release and half-yearly financial reports

- 4.4.3 Half-yearly financial reports shall be published as soon as possible, however no later than three months after the end of the financial period.

The Exchange may impose the sanctions set out in 8.1.1 (i)–(iii) also in situations where a Certified Adviser that has already been granted permission to operate, despite fulfilling all requirements, is considered to damage public confidence in the Exchange, Nasdaq First North Growth Market or the securities markets in general.

8.2 Sanctions towards Issuers

The Exchange may impose the sanctions set out in 8.2.1 (i)–(iii) also in situations where an already listed Issuer, despite fulfilling all admission requirements, is considered to damage public confidence in the Exchange, Nasdaq First North Growth Market or the securities markets in general.

8.4 Procedures

The Disciplinary Committee of the Exchange is responsible for decisions to impose a reprimand (warning) and/or fine on a Certified Adviser or an Issuer; or to remove Financial Instruments from admission to trading on Nasdaq First North Growth Market; and to terminate the approval of a Certified Adviser in accordance with 8.1.1 (iii). The decision to bring matters before the Disciplinary Committee will be the responsibility of the Head of Surveillance at the Exchange. The Head of Surveillance at the Exchange may also issue reprimands toward a Certified Adviser or an Issuer.

The Exchange may decide to publish non-public reprimands.

The disciplinary procedure of the Disciplinary Committee shall be conducted in accordance of the Rules of Procedures of the Disciplinary Committee of the Exchange unless otherwise governed in the rules in this Rulebook.

The Exchange may require the Issuer to submit such documentation to the Exchange.

Multilateral trading facilities (MTF's) are not considered as equivalent marketplaces.

Appendix D

The Danish translation of the liability statement in Appendix D is:

Vi erklærer hermed som ansvarlige for Virksomhedsbeskrivelsen, at oplysningerne indeholdt heri os bekendt er rigtige, og at Virksomhedsbeskrivelsen efter vores overbevisning indeholder de oplysninger, der anses for fornødne for, at investorerne kan danne sig et velbegrundet skøn over

Selskabets aktiver og passiver, finansielle stilling, resultater og fremtidsudsigter samt over de rettigheder, der er knyttet til de værdipapirer, der udbydes til offentligheden samt at al relevant information i bestyrelsesreferater, revisionsprotokoller og andre interne dokumenter er inkluderet i Virksomhedsbeskrivelsen.

The Danish translation of the First North Growth Market Disclaimer is:

Nasdaq First North Growth Market er et registreret SMV-vækstmarked, som defineret i Europa-Parlamentets og Rådets Direktiv om markeder for finansielle instrumenter (EU 2014/65) som implementeret i den nationale lovgivning i Danmark, Finland og Sverige, som drives af en børs, der indgår i Nasdaq-koncernen. Udstedere på Nasdaq First North Growth Market er ikke underlagt alle de samme regler, som udstedere optaget til handel på et reguleret marked (hovedmarkedet), som defineret i EU-lovgivning (og implementeret i national lov). I stedet er de underlagt et mindre omfattende regelsæt og lovgivning, der er tilpasset mindre vækstselskaber. Risikoen ved en investering i en udsteder, hvis aktier handles på Nasdaq First North Growth Market, kan derfor være højere end en investering i en udsteder optaget til handel på hovedmarkedet. Alle udstedere med aktier optaget til handel på Nasdaq First North Growth Market har en Certified Adviser, som overvåger, at regelsættet efterleves. Det er den respektive Nasdaq børs indenfor Nasdaq-koncernen, der godkender Selskabets ansøgning om optagelse til handel.
